

A series of 20 parallel diagonal lines, slanted upwards from left to right, filling the majority of the page. These lines are intended for handwritten notes or answers.

A large area of the page filled with horizontal lines, intended for writing. The lines are evenly spaced and cover most of the page's width and height.

